It's all in the detail...

For an inspirational and complete service for your home, go to Woodford Architecture and Interiors in Ashburton, the one stop shop for creative and beautiful design solutions

Living and working on the Southern edge of Dartmoor, Gavin Woodford and Sarah Watson find great inspiration in the beauty of their natural surroundings. "Whether we're planning a new pathway down to a property's private beach or designing a home surrounded by enormous granite boulders sitting on the moorland we consider landscape, interiors and architecture to all be as important as each other, and tying all these aspects together is what we do best." says Gavin,

Sarah and Gavin founded this forward-thinking practice in 2010, covering the South West and London. As well as being an award-winning architectural company, Woodfords are rare in providing exceptionally considered interior design in-house. The team at Woodfords offer a holistic approach, from the stylish refurbishment of a listed building to the design of a contemporary new-build penthouse with innovative hi-tech home automation.

"We love developing a project from the planning stage right through to assisting clients in selecting paint colours and soft furnishings," explains Sarah. "For us it's all about exceeding our client's expectations and creating spaces they will enjoy living, working and playing in. Over time, we build strong relationships with our clients and the fun part is tailoring our designs to suit their individual lifestyles, so every project is unique."

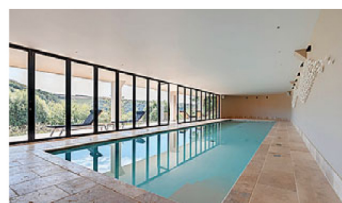

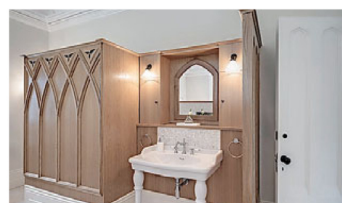

"We are passionate about the details," comments Gavin. "Ironmongery, lighting, fabrics, stone wood, tiles – it all fascinates us and we work closely with skilled professionals and craftsmen. It's much more than just designing plans and building walls, it's these details along with bespoke design features that really make a project outstanding."

"...it's about so much more than designing plans and building walls; it's the details and bespoke features really make a project outstanding"

There are so many options and possibilities at the start of a project. Sarah, Gavin and their professional team of technologists, architects and interior designers help hone their client's ideas. "We collaborate with our clients – it really is a partnership and we want to create the best possible design that reflects their lifestyle and needs while functioning beautifully" says Sarah.

Gavin and Sarah get most excited when there's scope to create something really spectacular. "It's essential to always look to the future" says Gavin who is always thinking about new ways to create original designs for Woodfords clients. ■
